2016 Bay to Breakers Race Day Transportation Sunday, May 15th, 2016

Public and private transit agencies in the Bay Area will be offering earlier, extra service to accommodate Bay to Breakers participants. The following is a summary of increased transit service for Sunday:

Public Transit Services

MUNI

Passes are available for purchase on the Zappos.com Bay to Breakers registration page. Passes are valid all day on race day on Muni services (excluding Cable Car). Avoid the lines and purchase your pass in advance. For information on passes, please visit SFMTA. The race will impact Muni service all day Sunday (5/15). Click here for more details.

BART

The BART system will open approximately 2 hours early, at 6:00AM on Sunday. Customers should arrive at stations with additional time to spare, approximately 30 minutes. Special event trains will run at various times throughout the day to accommodate the crowds. All trains will operate “long” or weekday peak commute period lengths throughout the day. For more information please visit the BART website.

Caltrain

CALTRAIN will be running special service on race day. There will be four extra pre-race trains to San Francisco and three express trains after the race to San Jose. Click here for the special service schedule. One-way and Day Pass tickets to the Zappos.com Bay to Breakers will go on sale starting May 12th at any station ticket machine.

Golden Gate Transit – Larkspur Ferry

The Golden Gate Larkspur Ferry has added early morning ferry service and arrives just a few blocks from the starting line. For information on timing, departure/arrival and purchasing tickets click here.
