

Dear Members, Directors, and Friends:

Attached is an important update we just received from SFMTA about the dates when pedestrians, cyclists, and motorists will begin to notice changes to their routes of travel. Please forward to tenants and others who need to information to navigate during and around the Super Bowl City and NFL Experience events.

Super Bowl 50: Pedestrian & Bike Detours for Market & The Embarcadero

Wednesday, January 20, 2016

During the Super Bowl City festivities in front of the Ferry Building from January 30 to February 7, event restrictions will be in place on sections of Market Street and The Embarcadero that will have an impact on pedestrians and people who ride bikes. Super Bowl City, centered around Justin Herman Plaza, will be a free-to-the-public fan village designed to celebrate the Super Bowl's 50-year milestone. Along with the NFL Experience at Moscone Center, it will be a hub of fan activities like interactive games and concerts.

The events will be active from January 30 to February 7, but auto traffic detours and Muni re-routes will be in effect from January 23 to February 12 to allow for staging and disassembly. As the construction of the fan village will begin January 23, pedestrian and bicycle access may be restricted as early as that date.

Find the latest transportation details our posts on auto traffic detours and Muni re-routes, as well as our Super Bowl 50 page. For SF Super Bowl event information, please visit the Super Bowl 50 Host Committee site or call 311.
