

Transit Service Updates

Updated July 16th, 2020

As the shelter-in-place continues indefinitely, transit agencies have continued to modify service to adhere to a major decline in ridership rates. The information below is subject to change and we will continue to update it as we receive more information.

Clipper has announced the launch of an 18-month pilot of their START program, which would offer fare discounts on certain transit services for low-income adults between the ages of 19 and 64.

Adults with an annual household income of no more than twice the federal poverty level are eligible for the Clipper START program, which offers 50% fare discounts on Caltrain, Muni, and Golden Gate Transit and Ferry, and 20% fare discounts on BART.
